Comments	<input type="text" value="We object to this planning application and would like the following points to be taken into consideration. For more than 20 years this area has become an integral part of the attractiveness of Rectory Lane and a haven for local wildlife including gold finches and woodpeckers. To lose this area to a housing development would be of great detriment to Rectory Lane and Fringford. Due to the elevated position of the plot, any housing development on this site would look incongruous with the appearance of Rectory Lane. If a house were to be constructed here it would cause major problems during construction due to delivery lorries and contractors vehicles visiting and parking in Rectory Land and Farriers Close."/>
