

The drawing is a detailed architectural section of a building. The left portion shows a long, single-story structure with a gabled roof supported by a series of vertical columns. The roof is shown in cross-section with various layers. The right portion shows a multi-story building with a more complex internal structure, including stairs and multiple levels. The drawing includes a series of grid lines labeled I.1, H.1, G, F, E, D, C, B, and A. Dimensions are provided for various sections: 30000, 29700, 30300, 30000, 6000, 7500, 9000, and 7800. A revision table is located on the right side of the drawing, detailing changes to the design.
