Comments	I am 12 years old and have spent my entire life in Stoke Lyne. To see countryside turned into a concrete jungle would be a crime against nature. I currently enjoy walking my dog in the unspoilt countryside and I run to keep fit and again, enjoy not having to run in the middle of a warehouse city. I worry about the impact on my health and the health of others too. Noise, air and light pollution will turn our village into something I won't recognise. I have friends who come to visit me here from Bicester, where they have very little open space and they enjoy the peace and quiet. Visitors to Stoke Wood and Stoke Lyne should be considered as well as the residents.
