Comments	<input type="text" value="Where do you like to go for a walk? In the countryside, through a wood or through an industrial estate? Where do the wildlife live? Where are the trees that give oxygen to all of us, Not amongst buildings. By destroying the natural habitats you are destroying the life blood of our land. Do not be guilty of destroying the beautiful landscape and having to admit to your grandchildren that you killed the animals, birds and trees that lived where the ugly buildings now reside."/>
