Comments	<input type="text" value="I fully object to this proposal of planning.
This side of the M40 was never planned to be built upon, it is obscene that the current buildings have 'slipped through the net' of the planning department already, to allow more gray boring buildings to be built in this stunning part of Oxfordshire will just show that the country as a whole will depend more and more on importing produce and not be self reliant on producing food and fuel for our country.
As for the transport links for the M40 and also travelling in and out of Banbury, the current road system (modified for the build of HS(waste of time/money)2), isn't able to cope with the travel demands currently let all one future demands and an increase in volume of traffic from a development of this size. The A361 is already a very dangerous road without the increase of traffic from this proposed development.
Parts of this proposed development also form a key role in the flood defences of Banbury, if the grounds were to be built on then this have a knock on effect to the town and also further up the water courses causing more destruction to local housing and businesses near the rivers and streams as well as farm land.
I'm my opinion this proposed development is not required and will have more than just a visual scar on the landscape.
Keep the countryside rural and farming. Let the UK farmers supply the UK and reduce the imports to a minimum."/>
