Comments	<input type="text" value="I strongly object to the proposed Photovoltaic Power Station in the parish of Noke. It would constitute the industrialisation of the Green Belt. It would be adjacent to Otmore RSPB reserve, a nationally important wildlife reserve and despoil Otmore itself, a unique and protected area in Oxfordshire. Although in the parish of Noke the topography of the area means that the power station would have a significant visual impact over a considerable area. The Oxfordshire Way crosses Otmore attracting many visitors, a Photovoltaic Power Station at Noke would be the only industrial site on its journey from the Cotswolds to the Chilterns."/>
