Comments	<input type="text" value="Like most people, I am generally in favour of schemes that will benefit the environment and slow down if not eradicate climate change. The current heatwave may be an ominous harbinger of things to come. However, I cannot in all conscience support this planning application. My grounds for this are as follows; firstly I suspect that reflections from the solar panels will be a distraction for motorists and ramblers. Secondly, however much the panels are concealed, they will still be an eyesore, located as they would be in a site that's adjacent to a nature reserve. Thirdly the disruption caused installing the panels would entail movements of heavy traffic for which the surrounding roads are patently unsuitable."/>
