I have relations in Noke, close to the site of this application. Whereas we all now realise that solar farms will be needed in the future, to site one so close to Otmoor would be criminal. Nature reserves in general, and Otmoor in particular, will become more and more precious for future generations - as will green energy. Few people want a solar farm on their doorstep, but to contemplate siting this one where it is proposed has not been thought through. It is well known that waterfowl can often mistake the reflection from solar panels for water, and try and land on them - particularly at night - with disastrous consequences. The Cherwell Planners Committee owe it to their electorate, and future generations, to refuse this Application.
