Comments	<input type="text" value="I object to the proposed development on the grounds below:
- Building on prime agricultural land is outrageous when this country needs to be building and sustaining resilience in food production.
- There has already been extensive building of dwellings in Woodstock which has not been supported by the infrastructure required and any more would place even greater strain on existing services.
- An additional 500 dwellings is completely inappropriate given the existing footprint of the town.
- There would be even more traffic on the roads and congestion.
- Concerns over flooding and drainage."/>
