Comments	This application has to be seen in the context that Blenheim are already planning 180 houses at Hill Rise, 250 at Banbury Road and 300 at Park View - all in Woodstock. Another 500 at Cherwell, well Woodstock, would potentially increase Woodstock's population by at least 2,500 - while the local planning inspector had set a limit of 650 houses. Woodstock is a historic market town, bordering a World Heritage Site, and does not have the infrastructure or facilities to cope with this increased number of residents (surgery, pharmacy, schools). The A44 is already overwhelmed at peak times and of course during the ever increasing number of events at Blenheim. Not to mention the impact on the environment, drainage, the loss of agricultural land, and green spaces currently available for those who live here. Blenheim (custodians of a World Heritage site AND property developer!?) put out regular messages about their green credentials (e.g. their tree planting, electric vehicles) while at the same time tarmacking over every piece of green space they own in and around Woodstock solely for financial gain - without any consideration for the local community and the impact on their quality of life. I strongly object to this application.
