Comments	<input type="text" value="Whilst I understand the advantages and disadvantages of solar arrays in the countryside, I can't help but feel that the land owner making such a proposition, should at least be someone willing to wear some of the change or be living locally to the development site.

I am particularly shocked with how close the development site would come to Pool Farm and the potential negative impact this development might have on such a well established wedding venue and corporate entertainment business. How can such a project like this have such little regard to another's business and income. I sincerely hope that in circumstances such as these, impacted local businesses are adequately compensated, but I fear not."/>
