Comments	<input type="text" value="The village has no infrastructure, and cannot withstand anymore houses being built. Chesterton has no public transportation whatsoever, no public footpaths that connect us to any other neighbouring towns, we do not even have a local store to buy bread and milk. We do not have roads that will withstand the capacity of even more houses as well as the gigantic monstrosity of a resort that is currently being built in the village. Chesterton is a tiny village and should remain so, find somewhere else to build! There's plenty of areas in Bicester that actually have existing infrastructures seeing as it is a massively expanding town. Chesterton is not expanding, and will not expand even with the absurd proposal of more houses being built. We will have more houses with nothing to justify their existence other than some empty fields in the middle of nowhere. Think smarter and go elsewhere."/>
