Comments	<input type="text" value="The British countryside is disappearing at an alarming rate and I feel that unless councils take control and stop these massive developments then our children and grandchildren will never be able to enjoy the green and pleasant land we have left. With companies closing and business downsizing we don't need more. It's bad enough how much we have ready lost with HS2, multiple housing estates and endless warehouses. Please stop the destruction of our countryside."/>
