Comments	Not again! My objections remain the same as those submitted re the last planning application which we believed, now clearly naively, to have been rejected once and for all. Despite the laughable change in respect of the colour and thin-ness of the mast its proposed location remains totally inappropriate, being within the conservation area of this old village and only yards from some of the oldest cottages. The residents of all the neighbouring properties will be affected by this totally alien and intrusive structure looming up within the views from their windows and in sight from their doors. Standing out so prominently at the junction of roads in and out of the south side of the village it could prove a distraction for drivers. There is nothing positive to be said about the proposed location of the mast. Should there be a genuine need for a G5 mast in the village there are other areas outside its conservation area which could be considered.
