Comments	<input type="text" value="This the second time this application has been made, albeit slightly modified in the content. The comments made previously still hold good. The positioning still contravenes the conservation area, notwithstanding how unsightly it is for a village of this nature. It is not difficult to fathom - a park associated with Capability Brown and a mast of this monstrous size less than 500,metres apart its madness. Do they want to destroy everything in sight? If it is truly necessary there are plenty of open spaces round and about without being in sight of this or any other village."/>
