Comments	<input type="text" value="We too would like to voice our strong objection to yet another house building application (& solar farm on the other side of the village) by the same greedy landowner - who lives miles away and bangs on about protecting his precious estate elsewhere whilst systematically ruining the Hanwell Estate. Surely someone at Cherwell planning can see past the cost of this application and the inevitable appeal and have the backbone to do the right thing. Joining Hanwell to Banbury will ruin an historic village and bring the town to the Warwickshire borders. The town centre is already an empty shadow of its former self - despite the umpteen housing estates that have flown up - please don't ruin the countryside around it as well when there are plenty of other options for housing that won't involve destroying a beautiful Oxfordshire village. Surely in this day and age, with the environmental issues that we face, is protecting the countryside not at the top of your agenda? It should be."/>
