Comments	<input conservation"="" conservation?<br="" mean="" not="" type="text" value="I object to the proposed development because it has no validity. It is not supported from either a planning, legal or heritage perspective and in fact would destroy prime agricultural land which is sorely needed.&lt;br/&gt;From a factual and policy perspective:&lt;br/&gt;    It is not part of the current development plan, nor is it part of the proposed new plan&lt;br/&gt;    It would join Hanwell to Banbury which is totally contrary to current policies&lt;br/&gt;    The site has already been assessed as not suitable and would extinguish a gap which is protected under current policy&lt;br/&gt;From a societal and policy perspective:&lt;br/&gt;    Results in the destruction of valuable high quality agricultural land&lt;br/&gt;    It harms both the landscape and bio diversity.&lt;br/&gt;    There is a loss of a local amenity and green space widely used by a cross section of the community.&lt;br/&gt;    Most importantly, it massively impacts in a negative way on what should be a protected conservation area. When does "/> There are further detrimental impacts on valuable heritage assets. Those assets have been around for centuries and are not something that should be dismissed in the blink of an eye. You have to ask yourselves why Vistry would put forward a proposal that so obviously does not fit. Also' their motivations, behaviours and culture that would think this is the right thing to do. Banbury should have no part of such toxic cultures."/>
