Comments	<input type="text" value="I strongly object to this application - not in my own self interest, because I live in the village of Hornton, but because it's wrong in principle.

The impact of this development will fundamentally change the lives of hundreds of people, who live in the village of Hanwell. They will no longer live in a village community, they'll live in a suburb of Banbury. There's nothing wrong with living in a suburb, of course, but these people chose to live in a village, which is a very different community. Why should they have that community wrecked simply to allow someone to line their pockets?

And it's not as though you need to build on this last piece of land between Hanwell and Banbury. There are plenty of other places on which to build - and developers are building houses on them. So please leave this land - and the village of Hanwell - alone."/>
