Received Date	"See attachments" Cherwell District Council We moved here in 2005 from Manchester, we wanted a house in a small village and Hanwell fitted the bill, since then different building firms have had permission from Cherwell council, to build houses all over the outskirts of Banbury, infinging on the villages surrounding Banbury. The Hanwell road is now a through road for cars and trucks, most of the time it is blocked with two way traffic and this is only the beginning if Vistry Homes have there way and get planning permission. We suffered with three way traffic lights on the Warwick road for about a year, when Hanwell Chase was built. If this nightmare is given planning permission, taking up beautiful farm land and putting houses on it, it will be a loss to everyone living near and far. Has anybody figured the sewage problem, more houses mean more sewage, leading up to pipe blockages and road ups, and eventually new sewage systems, so the roads will have to be dug up for years while they replace them, we won't be able to go into Banbury shopping because it will take too much time and fuel to qeue at "temporary traffic lights. To me I think the Government and the Council are wrong if you allow the planning on the houses. Regards Ray Waite
