Comments	<input type="text" value="Hanwell is a beautiful rural village steeped in history with lovely countryside and wildlife which needs to be preserved. The surrounding land is used for farming to feed people and animals. With lots of our food needing to be imported and rising prices it is imperative that we are able to continue to grow crops to support our local farmers and feed our nation. With 1000's of new houses already built in Banbury over the last decade the infrastructure cannot support any further developments. For the above reasons I strongly object to any further housing developments as they will destroy our countryside and our village life."/>
