Received Date	<input type="text" value="Hanwell is a picturesque village with masses of history and beauty just waiting to be discovered. By building these houses this would show ultimate disrespect and dishonour to the hundreds of years Hanwell has been an independent village as well as to those who helped build and maintain it in recent and further back history. You can build new houses anywhere but you can never rebuild a village like Hanwell so you need to keep Hanwell village rural for the sake of Oxfordshire and the rest of the country."/>
