Comments	<input type="text" value="I object to this development on environmental grounds. We are in a climate emergency and every decision needs to be taken with that in mind. If Cherwell already has enough land to supply housing need for the next 5 years, this development is unnecessary. Once green fields become part of the built environment, they will almost certainly never be anything else. Planning decisions last for generations and the next generation needs us to put climate first. Building on green fields and adding traffic to a village with almost no public transport or cycling infrastructure is inconsistent with this."/>
