| Comments | <input type="text" value="Object to this proposal on the grounds that is avarice rather than need. Loss of productive land in a time of acknowledgement that we need to be less reliant on other countries for our food production. Harm to wildlife we have beautiful deer in this area that are a joy to behold. The observatory at Hanwell will struggle to find a dark sky to point their telescope at which would be a great loss. The soul will be knocked out of Hanwell if it is swallowed into the town which would be a travesty. I don't see why we should have to sacrifice our countryside to meet Oxford's unmet housing. We already struggle to get a GP appointment adding all these extra houses will exacerbate this problem."/> |
