Comments	<input type="text" value="This application cannot go ahead surely!! This land is designated protected!!How on earth can Greystones GB get around planning laws. ?? There is plenty of industrial areas in Banbury lying empty. You only have to look at the units on the A361 to see it's not viable. They are still empty. The land is also very low lying and if we fill all our available flood planes with concrete what will that lead too. !! The buildings will just lie empty and become an eyesore. Come on Cherwell District Council Stand up for ancient pastures. Keep some green space for goodness sake. Don't let Greystoke GB run roughshod over you. We need to be firm with these supposed developers. Banbury does NOT need this. Please don't take money over conservation."/>
