Comments	<input type="text" value="I wish to object to this application.

The environmental damage already carried out on the site in breach of the original planning conditions has led to the destruction of two ponds which were home to a Great Crested Newt population. The newts are still present on the site and as they are an endangered and protected species I suggest that the planning department refuse this application.

Other concerns relate to the potential surface water runoff becoming contaminated with diesel and entering the water courses. Piddington is prone to flooding and the proposed hardstanding will take away the opportunity for the water to soak away."/>
