Comments	<input type="text" value="Caversfield is a village with country roads which struggle with the traffic now so more vehicles will only put more strain on small roads. Caversfield has had lots of development over the last few year and is mainly old RAF housing with old infrastructure which will not cope with extra homes. There is plenty of building going on around time without more in Caversfield. Caversfield as a village has no bus route anymore any shops so as a green town as we are meant to be everything people need to do will have to be done by car increases population in the village. With the eco village being built on the road out of Bicester do we really need to fill another green space with more housing."/>
