Comments	<input type="text" value="As someone who has lived in Oxford and surrounding parts of Oxfordshire all my life I meet all sorts of fans committed to Oxford United and what unity it brings. Even where I live now in little old Clanfield there are a few supporters scattered about and just shows the wide reach the club has. Support for a new ground is ever so important now, as without it we will loose a vital commodity that isn't just about 90 minutes on a Saturday but much, much more. Concerns of chaos on match days are unfounded and seeing how the current ground copes surrounded by houses is a great example and with a train station next door for the planned stadium can only help with some of the current parking issues. I do hope you consider how a much needed stadium can only enhance the county and the people of Oxfordshire and beyond."/>
