Comments	<input type="text" value="The disruption that is to be caused by the building of the stadium is going to be immense, how will I drive out of Kidlington if there are going to be road closures, how will I shop at Sainsbury's, what about the noise and light pollution, who will foot the bill for the policing of these thugs as they emanate out into the pubs in Kidlington, what about the impact on house prices, why are we losing more green belt, what about the impact on wildlife? Why does there need to be a commercial development? Who will monitor parking on the roads around Kidlington and the disruption that will cause? What about the increase in CO2 levels from the cars arriving at the games? Traffic is already horrendous and with this only going to get worse, Kidlington is going to grind to a halt. This is an ill conceived, badly thought out plan when there is already a perfectly good stadium in place! I have to wonder how matters have advanced this far???? How can you have former Labour councillors openly flaunt their support for this venture on social media??? It all smacks of corruption to me. What happens when support from abroad wanes and we are left with a derelict building on our door step? The football club is not a going concern without support from the parent company. What due diligence has been performed on the shareholders of the parent company? How do emergency services access the village during road closures? Why are we even considering this and putting lives at risk? This defies any rational thought and there are no socio economic benefits to be derived from this. What about the redundancies from the Kassam stadium? How do I get home from work when there is an evening game? We have councillors employed in senior positions that in my opinion do not possess the requisite skills / qualifications required for the role ie the finance lead is a banker not a qualified accountant. Has nothing been learnt from the Kassam era? Why should we suffer? It's time to listen properly to what local residents want not football supporters who do not live locally! This has to stop right now"/>
