Comments	<input type="text" value="What does Oxford United mean to you and why?
Supporting Oxford United has been part of my life since 1986 when I got drawn in by the milk cup final win and got interest in football, going on from there by being taken to the Manor by my family to watch home games and then becoming a season ticket holder in my teens and going home and away with friends, this has now followed on to myself going every with my two boys who now follow their local club and enjoy going to watch Oxford united.

For Oxford united to go out of existence in this day and age because of the failure to provide a home for a very well established professional football would be devastating to all that follow this football club from young and old and all new supporters we attract.

When you look around locally that commercial properties and new homes are popping up everywhere this needs to be balanced with keeping Oxford united going and providing them with a new home to play football and also providing other benefits for the local and wider community as this is not just a football stadium.
The right decision needs to be made here and common sense means this is the right thing to do.

Oxfordshire needs this."/>
