Comments	<input type="text" value="One of the conditions for granting approval for this development was the provision of allotments for local residents. This was in part some compensation for an unsustainable development which will bring more traffic, more light, noise and air pollution, a strain on existing sewage and water supplies, and the destruction of local habitat and biodiversity for wildlife. It seems that Deanfield want their cake (planning permission) and want to eat it too. Yet again, if the council allow Deanfield to renege on its obligation, local residents who are council tax payers and voters, will be short changed. Furious!"/>
