Comments	<input type="text" value="There is not enough infrastructure to support building 500 more houses. The GP surgery is under enough strain as it is and needs investment. The school is already full and doesn't have capacity to cope with another 500 families. There is one shop in town - a small little coop which does not have the capacity to service an additional 500 houses, Blenheim housing is not affordable, even the 35% they claim will be affordable. They are making it impossible to live and afford within the town, creating a neighbourhood for the elite. The town is already over subscribed and frankly needs more investment into infrastructure more than it needs more housing just because Blenheim want to make more money."/>
