Comments	The extra traffic from 500 houses into, through and around Woodstock will make an already busy road/Town even more congested than it is now. The constant promise of a new surgery in the plans does not and never will solve the problem of too many patients on the doctors list. Unless a guarantee of extra doctors in the practice is included with 500 more houses and approx 2000 new people needing health appointments at an already oversubscribed surgery this will impact all of us already registered who can't get an appointment now. The idea of having to have the possibility of buses running through the estate is madness. Double decker buses travelling through roads where already children play in the road would be an accident waiting to happen. My other objection is that any social housing should be for local Woodstock familes in need. Being Cherwell council bringing in familes from that district like Banbury and Bicester who have no connection to Woodstock is totally wrong.
