Comments	<input type="text" value="is it truly necessary to create more housing in a town already overcrowded with dangerous roads that aren't being maintained sufficiently. The road wear is ridiculous with potholes left unmanaged for years deteriorating due to the excessive traffic. There's insufficient parking already with many residents struggling with parking on a daily basis and any attempt to contact is left running in circles. Surely there is a better way to support the towns community than by increasing housing. Could these funds not be better spent improving the roads within the town instead. Fixing the problems rather than building more housing and aggravating the problems already here."/>
