Comments	It seems nonsensical to restrict traffic along a wide road with traffic lights, leading directly into Bicester via more wide roads, in order to send traffic down smaller, narrower country lanes and through the middle of villages such as North Aston where two vehicles can barely pass. The bridges over the river and canal at Somerton are extremely unsuitable for large volumes of traffic. North Aston road is also in use for regular farm traffic. Small Children play regularly on the village green alongside the road. Middleton Stoney is far better placed to carry larger volumes of traffic.
