Comments	<input type="text" value="I was led to believe by the head of the planning at Cherwell district council that the access road from the oxford road to the new development would be built first to take the construction vehicles and when almost completed the two existing roads hobby road and Songthrush road would them be opened up to adjoin the two developments. Is this still the case because these 2 roads are totally inadequate to carry such vehicles and was led to believe that this was one of the objections from the council before it could go ahead."/>
